

Writing

Become Inspired by the 'Literacy Shed'

The Literacy Shed website offers amazing prompts to inspire writers. There you will find intriguing and beautiful photographs and artworks that will prompt you to consider what could be happening. Here is an example, titled 'The Tiny Dragon'. Have a look at the questions to consider and create your own narrative using the picture as inspiration.

Tiny Dragon

Questions for discussion:

Where is it from?

Why is it so small?

Are there more like him?

Where does he live?

How will you look after it?

Will you keep it a secret or tell someone?

What is it called?

Is it magic? What magic can it do?

I like to imagine that it is a really small dragon which you can keep in your pocket but when you need to it can grow huge so that you can ride it.

Visit the Literacy Shed website for more inspiration: <https://www.literacyshed.com/the-images-shed.html>

Mathematics – Symmetry

The 'Symmetry Challenge'

Symmetry is an aspect of the study of geometry. By studying symmetry and its properties you can see how maths is very much connected to the real world.

This challenge encourages you and your family to think about symmetry using everyday objects to make a unique design.

Take the Symmetry Challenge at the Victorian Maths Challenge website:

<https://fuse.education.vic.gov.au/Resource/LandingPage?ObjectId=34676bb2-4c25-4018-8c61-b31362741f75&SearchScope=Primary>