

Vocabulary / Spelling - Boggle!

Boggle is a board game that is useful to develop letter recognition, revise speech sounds and a great way to expand vocabulary and spelling skills. If you have Boggle at home, your homework task is to find a friend or family member to have a game with! If you don't, simply use the grid below and challenge yourself to see how many words you can create using the available letters.

Play some games of '10 in a Row' as outlined below. You will need a deck of cards.

10 in a Row

Focus - Building 10 facts.

What you need:

1 deck of cards

Number of players: 2 - 4

How to play:

Place 10 playing cards face up in front of the group in a line. Place the rest of the deck face down in a pile. The number on each card tells you what it is worth (Aces = 1 and J, Q, K = 10). Take it in turns of making ten using as many cards as possible.

When you make 10, you get to keep these cards. Each time you take cards from the line, you must replace them with cards from the deck for the next person.

(Hint: Try to use as many numbers as you can to make 10!)

How to win:

The game is over when the deck is finished or when a player can no longer build to 10. The player with the most cards is the winner.
